

WHAT IS FUEL UP TO PLAY 60?

Fuel Up to Play 60 is a completely free, fun and engaging school wellness program bringing together students, educators, NFL players, farmers and influencers – all working together to build stronger and healthier communities.

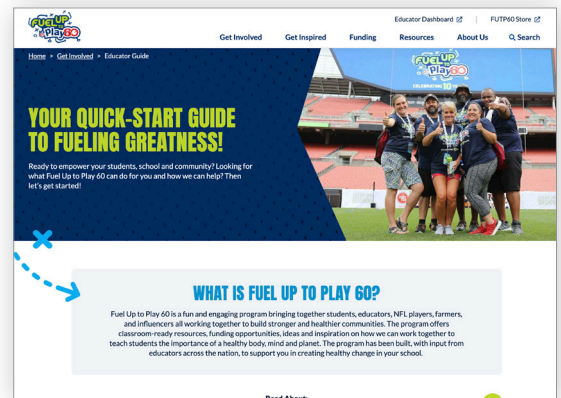

Resources

The program offers classroom-ready resources like lesson plans and downloadable posters, funding opportunities, ideas and inspiration on how we can work together to teach students the importance of a healthy body, mind, and planet. The program has been built, with input from educators across the nation, to support schools in creating healthy change in the school environment. All this and more can be found under “Resources” on FuelUpToPlay60.com.

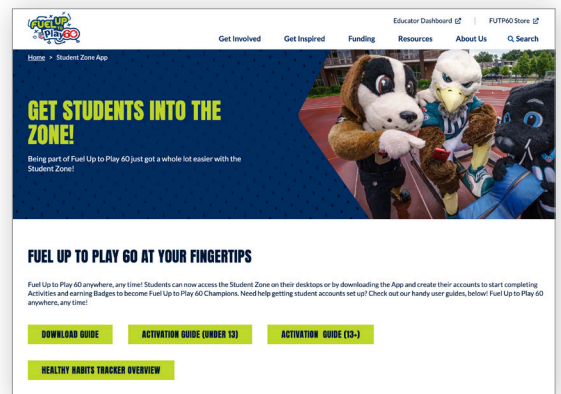

Educator Dashboard

Click on “Educator Dashboard” in the upper-right corner of FuelUpToPlay60.com to access your own personalized program experience. You can link yourself to your school(s) and track activities toward earning Fuel Up to Play 60’s highest school recognition, the Touchdown School Award! This is also where you will learn about local program information, the latest funding and equipment offers, and more.

The Student Zone

Check out The Student Zone – where students can create an account to complete Activities, earn Badges and become Fuel Up To Play 60 Champions! The Student Zone is available via desktop or as a free mobile app in the App Store or Google Play.
