- Kids need 60 minutes of physical activity a day. Eating breakfast and lunch can help you stay strong and energized during activity. What's your favorite activity?
- Thank you to our wonderful [insert school/ district] cafeteria staff for being our #SchoolLunchHeros. They are here every school day, working hard to create healthy meals for our students.
- Chocolate milk is a great choice for fueling up after physical activity. It provides energy, protein, hydration and nutrients to power you through your day.
- Flavored milk in schools is lower in added sugar than store bought milk. Students who drink milk, including flavored milk, have better diet quality than those who don't. Check out our menus to see the meals students can pair with milk.
