

Photo Credit: Evan Sung for Women's Wear Daily

Zoe Brickley began exploring the world of cheese while attending The French Culinary Institute, NYC. From there she took on the role of Cave Manager and American Buyer at Murray's Cheese after some time spent behind the counter. In 2009, Zoe joined the team at Jasper Hill Farm where she led foundational Sales & Marketing efforts for the growing company. Currently, she Directs the family of business's Communications, E-Commerce and Creative works. Zoe loves to learn more about cheese through teaching, having presented hundreds of hours of content for many organizations. She is an American Cheese Society Certified Cheese Professional & Sensory Evaluator (ACS CCP, CCSE), a member of the Guilde Internationale des Fromagers, and Chair of the Marketing Committee for the Vermont Cheese Council.